

The Holy Ghost: The Sanctifier (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Holy Ghost: The Sanctifier<sup>1</sup>. God is One in absolute perfection; and in that Unity there is no distinction except by the relations which constitute the Persons of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. All divine worship is therefore given to the Three Persons equally in One God, and in like manner all divine perfections are common to the Three Persons, and none is proper to any so as not to belong equally to all. So also all the divine operations in the creatures of God are alike common to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost.
